Petition to Establish Parental Relationship Packet

This packet includes the necessary forms to establish Parentage, Custody, Visitation and Child Support.

The term "Establishing parentage" means determining who the legal parents of a child are if the parents were not married when the child was born. If the parents were married when the child was born, the law usually considers the husband to be the father.

After January 1, 2005, if parents are registered domestic partners when a child is born, the law assumes that the domestic partners are parents. However, since this law is new and unsettled, same sex parents should get legal advice to make sure that the parentage is clear.

Parents who are not married when a child is born can sign a Voluntary Declaration of Paternity at the hospital. This form can also be signed at the local child support agency, public health or the Family Law Facilitator's Office if both parties are present and show identification. When people who are not married cannot agree about parentage, the Court can order genetic testing.

Usually a child's parentage must be established BEFORE the Court can make any child support, custody and/or visitation orders.

ALERT! If a person is established as a legal parent of a child, that person MUST support the child. It is a crime for a legal parent to fail to support his or her child. A legal parent also has the right to get custody and/or visitation rights related to the child.

Additional Information:

Even if you get temporary orders for child support, child custody and visitation, you MUST submit the documents necessary to obtain a Judgment of Paternity. THE COURT WILL NOT FINALIZE YOUR CASE FOR YOU NOR DOES FILING A PETITION SETTLE YOUR ISSUES. YOU MUST SUBMIT JUDGMENT PAPERWORK.

A Judgment of Paternity protects your child's rights to receive support from both parents, to collect Social Security Worker's Compensation, State Disability or other benefits if a parent dies or becomes disabled, and to inherit from the estates of both parents or from other family members as the survivor of a deceased parent.

A Judgment of Paternity protects each parent's rights of support for the child from the other parent; to visit and be with the child; to access a child's medical, dental and educational records; and to participate in important decisions concerning the child.

Parents who come to court about child custody and parenting time (visitation) face decisions about parenting plans for their children. This information sheet provides general information about child custody and parenting time matters, how to get help resolving a custody dispute or making a parenting plan, where to find an attorney, and where to find other resources.

What is a parenting plan?

A parenting plan describes how the parents will divide their responsibilities for taking care of their child.

The plan may include a general or specific schedule of days, times, weekends, holidays, vacations, transportation, pick-up/drop-off, limits on travel, counseling and treatment services, and other details.

What are legal and physical custody?

A parenting plan usually includes:

- Legal custody: how parents make major decisions about the child's health, education, and welfare;
- Physical custody: where the child lives; and
- Parenting time, time-share, or visitation: when the child spends time with each parent.

Legal custody and physical custody may each be specified as joint (both parents have certain responsibilities) or sole (one parent has the responsibility alone).

Can we make our own parenting plan?

Yes. You have a right to make a parenting plan agreement on your own. This agreement may be called a stipulation, time-share plan, or parenting plan.

If both parents can agree on a parenting plan, the judge will probably approve it. The agreement becomes a court order after it is signed by both parents and the judge, and filed with the court.

What if there is domestic violence or a protective order?

If there is domestic violence or a protective order, talk with an attorney, counselor, or mediator before making a parenting plan.

For domestic violence help, call the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-7233 (TDD: 1-800-787-3224) or call 211 if available in your area.

What if we don't have a parenting plan?

If you can't reach an agreement, the court will refer you to mediation with family court services (FCS) to try to work out a parenting plan.

What is mediation with family court services?

Family court services (FCS) provides mediation to help parents resolve disagreements about the care of their child. The mediator will meet with you and the other parent to try to help you both make a parenting plan. An orientation may be provided that offers additional information about the process.

If you are concerned about meeting with the other parent in mediation, or there is a domestic violence issue or a protective order involving the other parent, you may ask to meet alone with the mediator without the other parent. You may also request to have a support person with you at mediation. The support person may not speak for you.

Do we have to agree to a parenting plan in mediation?

No. You do not have to come to an agreement in mediation. When the parents can't agree, the judge will decide. For legal advice, contact an attorney. For other information, ask the self-help center or family court services about how the process works in your court.

Are there other ways to resolve our dispute?

Where can I get help?

This information sheet gives only basic information on the child custody process and is not legal advice. If you want legal advice, ask an attorney for assistance. For other information, you may want to:

1. Contact family court services.

2. Contact the family law facilitator or self-help center for information, local rules and court forms, and referrals to local legal services providers.

3. Find an attorney through your local bar association, the State Bar of California at <http://calbar.ca.gov>, or the Lawyer Referral Service at 1-866-442-2529.

4. Hire a private mediator for help with your parenting agreement. A mediator may be an attorney or counselor. Contact your local bar association, court ADR program, or family court services for a referral to local resources.

5. Find information on the Online Self-Help Center website at www.courts.ca.gov/selfhelp.

6. For free and low-cost legal help (if you qualify), go to: www.lawhelpcalifornia.org.

7. Find information at your local law library or ask at your public library.

8. Ask for a court hearing and let the judge decide what is best for your child.

Yes. You may try other alternative dispute resolution (ADR) options, including:

1. Meet and Confer: Parents and their attorneys (if any) may meet at any time and as often as necessary to work out a parenting plan without a court hearing. If there is a protective order limiting the contact between the parents, then the "meet and confer" can be through attorneys or a mediator in separate sessions.

2. Settlement Conference: In some courts, parents may meet with a judge, neutral evaluators, or family law attorneys not involved in the case to discuss settlement. Check with the local court to find out if this is an option. If there is a protective order, the settlement discussion can be through attorneys or a mediator in separate sessions.

3. Private Mediation: Parents may hire a private mediator to help them resolve their dispute.

4. Collaborative Law Process: Each parent hires a lawyer and agrees to resolve the dispute without going to court. The parents may also hire other experts.

When the parents cannot agree to a parenting plan on their own, in mediation, or in any other ADR process, the judge will decide.

If there is domestic violence or a protective order, a parent may be able to bring a support person with him or her to the court hearing, but the support person may not speak for that person.

Requests for Accommodations

Assistive listening systems, computer-assisted real-time captioning, or sign language interpreter services are available if you ask at least five days before the proceeding. Contact the clerk's office or go to www.courts.ca.gov/forms for Request for Accommodations by Persons with Disabilities and Response (form MC-410). ## STOP

The following forms need to be served on the other party BLANK.

Response to Petition to Establish Parental Relationship Packet

All documents must be typed or printed legibly per Rules of Court 2.104, in blue or black ink.

This packet includes the necessary forms to respond to a Petition for Parentage, Custody, Visitation and Child Support.

The term "Establishing parentage" means determining who the legal parents of a child are if the parents were not married when the child was born. If the parents were married when the child was born, the law usually considers the husband to be the father.

After January 1, 2005, if parents are registered domestic partners when a child is born, the law assumes that the domestic partners are parents. However, since this law is new and unsettled, same sex parents should get legal advice to make sure that the parentage is clear. Parents who are not married when a child is born can sign a Voluntary Declaration of Paternity at the hospital. This form can also be signed at the local child support agency, public health or the Family Law Facilitator's Office if both parties are present and show identification. When people who are not married cannot agree about parentage, the Court can order genetic testing. Usually a child's parentage must be established BEFORE the Court can make any child support, custody and/or visitation orders.

ALERT! If a person is established as a legal parent of a child, that person MUST support the child. It is a crime for a legal parent to fail to support his or her child. A legal parent also has the right to get custody and/or visitation rights related to the child. Even if you get temporary orders for child support, child custody and visitation, you MUST submit the documents necessary to obtain a Judgment of Paternity. THE COURT WILL NOT FINALIZE YOUR CASE FOR YOU. YOU MUST SUBMIT JUDGMENT PAPERWORK.

A Judgment of Paternity protects your child's rights to receive support from both parents, to collect Social Security Worker's Compensation, State Disability or other benefits if a parent dies or becomes disabled, and to inherit from the estates of both parents or from other family members as the survivor of a deceased parent. A Judgment of Paternity protects each parent's rights of support for the child from the other parent; to visit and be with the child; to access a child's medical, dental and educational records; and to participate in important decisions concerning the child.

Revised 3/18/2025

Either party may file paperwork to get orders for custody, visitation or support at any time after the Petition has been filed. Additional packets are available for scheduling hearings to obtain any orders you may need.
